MEMORANDUM FOR DESC DIRECTORS, PERSONAL STAFF, DIVISION CHIEFS, COMMANDERS, DEFENSE ENERGY REGIONS

SUBJECT: Debarment of Atlas Environmental Services and Jamesport Corporation

On March 30, 2001, the Defense Logistics Agency debarred Atlas Environmental Services and Jamesport Corporation, effective through August 15, 2003. The action was based upon the party's involvement in a scheme to mislabel and sell waste oil as No. 4 oil to unsuspecting customers in New Jersey and New York. The scheme involved various players in the fuel distribution business, including but not limited to ground fuel suppliers, waste oil distributors, truck haulers, environmental testing labs, fuel storage terminals, hazardous waste generators, and organized crime. DLA previously debarred several other players involved in the scheme, including Gerald Olkus, former owner of Atlas Environmental Services, based on his guilty plea in the New Jersey Superior Court for unlawful disposition of hazardous waste, and Paul McDaniel, President, Jamesport Corporation, based on his guilty plea for willful failure to file tax reports.

Please note the consequences of debarment at FAR Subsection 9.405(a) through (d). You should not solicit offers from, award contracts to, or consent to subcontracts with these corporations. These contractors are excluded from conducting business with the Government as agents, or representatives of other contractors. If these companies or any affiliates submit offers, or request a novation or change of name agreement, please coordinate with DESC-G.

Copies of the Notice of Debarment and this notice should be placed in the SF 129 files, if any, for Atlas Environmental Services and Jamesport Corporation.

Electronic copies are provided below in maxmate icon form, as well as .tif form.
